PROGRAM SYLLABUS & CURRICULUM OVERVIEW

PHYSICAL HEALTH & FITNESS TRAINING PROGRAM

Program Overview

This training program is designed to provide a comprehensive foundation in physical health, physical fitness, and evidence-informed training methodologies. The curriculum integrates essential theoretical knowledge with practical training principles to support physical performance, promote overall wellness, encourage safe exercise practices, and contribute to the development of a sustainable and healthy lifestyle.

MODULE 1 — PHYSICAL HEALTH

Core Learning Outcomes

- Understand the fundamentals of physical health and their influence on overall well-being and quality of life.
- Develop foundational knowledge of human anatomy and physiology as they relate to physical activity and exercise.
- Recognize the role of nutrition, hydration, recovery, and healthy lifestyle practices in supporting physical well-being.
- Identify positive lifestyle habits that contribute to long-term health and the prevention of lifestyle-related health risks.

MODULE 2 — PHYSICAL FITNESS

Core Learning Outcomes

- Understand the major components of physical fitness, including cardiovascular endurance, muscular strength, muscular endurance, flexibility, mobility, and body composition.
- Apply fundamental principles of fitness training, including training variables, progression, specificity, overload, and individualization.
- Develop a structured understanding of exercise and training program design.
- Apply appropriate fitness assessment and progress-monitoring techniques to evaluate performance and achieve fitness goals.

MODULE 3 — TRAINING METHODS & PROGRAMMING

Core Learning Outcomes

- Understand and apply fundamental training methods and appropriate exercise-selection principles.
- Develop knowledge of training adaptation, workload management, periodization, recovery, and progressive programming.
- Apply appropriate principles of exercise technique, training progression, and risk reduction.
- Plan and implement safe, effective, and goal-oriented training programs according to individual needs and objectives.

Program Learning Outcomes

Upon successful completion of the training program, participants are expected to demonstrate foundational knowledge of physical health and fitness principles, apply key concepts related to anatomy, physiology, nutrition, exercise, and recovery, and be able to design and implement safe, structured, and progressive training programs.

Official Program Note

This program is delivered in accordance with the Academy's established educational and training framework, reflecting its commitment to quality, professionalism, and responsible practice in health, wellness, and physical activity. This Program Syllabus & Curriculum Overview constitutes an integral part of the official training documentation and is intended to accompany the corresponding Certificate of Training or Course Completion.
